

WASHINGTON, DC – Congressman Lee Terry (R-NE) released the following statement today in response to Nebraska’s Department of Environmental Quality (NEDQ) delivering the Final Evaluation Report on the Keystone Nebraska Reroute to Governor Dave Heineman:

“I am pleased the final evaluation report from NDEQ on the Keystone reroute was prepared and presented to Governor Heineman in a timely and efficient manner.□ The entire process conducted within the state of Nebraska has been handled effectively through transparency and public opinion.□ I am confident the Governor will make an unbiased and fair decision based on the facts presented to him.”

According to state law, the Governor has up to 30 days to review the report and make a recommendation.